

RECREATIONAL ORDERS FAQ

- Orders generally take 2 weeks to process. Customized orders generally take 3 weeks to process.
- Plan to order by 8/21/26 for the current season for your product to arrive in time for the first games 9/12/26 with free shipping.
- We strongly encourage orders to be placed by the team. Individual orders may not qualify for team pricing and could include shipping costs. If your team has ordered with us before and only has a few new players, we would appreciate placing the order for all new players at one time instead of sending them in individually.
- If you are going to send them in individually, you need to contact us first and let us know, so we can ensure that your uniform is still an available style and color and that we have all the correct information to help your players. We will not place individual orders until the end of the ordering window to try and get everyone free shipping. If there are not enough orders, then the orders may incur a shipping cost.
- Any individual orders placed outside of the order window will be charged for shipping and the product will not arrive in time for the first game. Any team orders placed outside of the window may be charged shipping if the amount of the order is not enough to qualify for free shipping and the product will not be ready for the first games.
- The current recreational order window closes on 8/21/26.
- You can view uniform styles and colors by going to the website listed on the price sheet. All pricing for numbers and logos is on the price sheet as well.
- Looking for a unique customized jersey. Design one yourself. On the Momentec website, view the sublaminate freestyle custom uniform options. Choose one of the options and then customize it by choosing a template and decorating the jersey to your liking. When you are finished with your design and entered sizes and numbers, save the design and share the link with Kurt via his email address Kurt@wembleysoccer.com. He will then send you back a quote with the discounted team pricing. You will then confirm that you want to go ahead with the order and he will place your customized order. Customized orders take three weeks and at the height of the season can end up taking even longer. Order early. Don't wait until the order window closes.
